WE ARE BUYING

As much as we would like it to be otherwise, we operate in a relatively thin market . The majority of coin dealers could care less about tokens and medals and their buying prices reflect that disinterest. PRESIDENTIAL has specialized in the token and medal field for 25 years and is in a position to offer fair and knowledgeable prices for your material. If you would rather sell at auction - there is no better vehicle than our professionally cataloged illustrated sales. Our commission rate is a reasonable 10% and payment is made promptly 45days after the close of the sale.

TAMS

INTRODUCING THE TOKEN AND MEDAL SOCIETY

For All Collectors of Tokens and Medals and Related Exonumia

The Token and Medal Society (TAMS) was founded in 1960 as "The Society of Medal, Token and Obsolete Paper Money Collectors." A year later the name was officially changed to the Token and Medal Society.

Exonumists, as TAMS members are known, is a coined word which denotes collectors of numismatic items not of government issue. Accordingly, the collecting and study of tokens and medals is known as "exonumia." TAMS members have always been among the most dedicated collectors and students in the hobby of numismatics.

THE AIMS OF TAMS ARE:

- To promote and stimulate the study of tokens and medals.
- To encourage development of research, articles and recordings pertaining thereto.
- To cultivate fraternal collector relations.
- To disperse information and knowledge in the society's journal.
- To promote meetings and conventions.
- To determine and publish detailed information on the values of tokens and medals.
- To permanently record historical information relating to tokens and medals by publishing original works by members; and by reprinting old works not readily available to present day collectors.

COLLECT TOKENS AND MEDALS

If you are not presently a collector, or have become tired of the sameness of collecting coins by dates, add "life" to your hobby by collecting tokens and medals as an alternate or supplement to your present collecting interests. Tokens offer history, both local and national, plus a record of the changing customs of people, and preserve it in a way that coins never can. You'll learn from tokens that bread once sold for 5¢ a loaf, and that during wartime, merchants had their own tokens struck to replace hoarded coins. You may even find a token issued by your own grandfather or by a storekeeper you remember from years ago. Tokens are personal, reflecting history you can relive and enjoy.

Medals on the other hand, reflect history in a different way — by commemorating important events and persons of the past and present. Nowhere else in the numismatic field can you obtain the history that may be gleaned form a medallic collection; practically every event or person of importance has been commemorated at one time or another. And, if you are a confirmed collector of sets, it is possible to turn one's interests to collecting medals by subject — there are many medals of George Washington, for example, and when assembled, you will have far more variety than a set of coins by dates and mintmarks. Added to the historical value of medals is the artistic superiority of many pieces. Unlike coins, which must meet various restrictions of design and inscription, sculptors and medals have more free rein and are thus able to produce many artistic masterpieces that can be found nowhere else.

So, whether your interests lean toward history and art as expressed by medals or the "everyday" history and social customs as expressed by tokens, you will surely find something in this field to whet your collecting appetite. Should you already be collecting tokens or medals in a small way or would like to give it a try, you will find that you need some sort of guide. We believe the answer to this is the Token and Medal Society, a national collector's organization of more than 2000 collectors. Through its members and the pages of its bi-monthly Journal and books, you will learn of collecting avenues of which you never dreamed, ranging from game counters and car wash tokens to American Legion and Presidential Inauguration medals. A summary of the services offered by the Token and Medal Society will be found described in this folder. We invite you to join us.

Medals of Major Walter Reed

By Leon L. Robert, TAMS 7569

Major (Doctor) Walter Reed (1851-1902), US Army Surgeon (Fig. 1), ended the worldwide fear of yellow fever when he and a small team of physicians and brave American soldier volunteers unmasked the yellow fever mosquito (Aedes aegypti) as the culprit of spreading this dreaded disease. Walter Reed and the other members of the Yellow Fever Board conducted their yellow fever research from 1900 to 1901 as part of the American occupation force in Cuba in the wake of the Spanish-American War. Proof that the mosquito transmits yellow fever is regarded as one of the most important discoveries of all time in tropical medicine. Dr. Reed won widespread international acclaim for this accomplishment and was instantly recognized by the US Army, physicians and scientists for his extraordinary medical discovery.

Surgeon-General George M. Sternberg formed the Army Yellow Fever Board in 1900 with the hope of finding the cause of yellow fever, and stopping the spread of this dread disease. Sternberg had first-hand knowledge of the yellow fever scourge in Cuba as he served there in 1879 as chief microscopist of the National Board of Health's Yellow Fever Commission. Sternberg knew Walter Reed from his previous work at John's Hopkins and on a typhoid study. In 1898, following the US declaration of war on Spain, Sternberg selected Reed and two other officers to study American military camps in order to determine the cause of a typhoid epidemic. Two years later in 1900, Sternberg again sought out Reed and made him officer-in-charge of the Army Yellow Fever Board that was sent to Havana, Cuba (Fig. 2).

The results of their research led to an unprecedented and remarkably successful campaign in 1901 to control mosquitoes and thus yellow fever in Havana. Major William C. Gorgas applied these same principles years later in Panama to control yellow fever and malaria, thus making possible the construction of the Panama Canal.

An Act of Congress (Public Law 858, 70th Congress) signed February 28, 1929, posthumously recognized Dr. Reed for his extraordinary efforts in the yellow fever investigation in Cuba by authorizing a gold medal (Fig. 3). Walter Reed died in 1902 of complications resulting from an appendectomy. The first medal was presented to Dr. Reed's widow, Mrs. Emilie L. Reed. Twenty-three other members of the Yellow Fever Board also received this medal. Many had allowed themselves to become infected with yellow fever as part of the study, thereby placing their lives in grave danger.

Thomas Hudson Jones (1892-1969) of the Institute of Heraldry designed the gold Congressional Walter Reed Medal (63 mm) (Fig. 3). Hygeia, the ancient Greek goddess of health, holding the staff of Mercury (a caduceus) in her right hand and her left arm in the gesture of protection of the soldier to her right. The male figure of a soldier (representing those who participated in the yellow fever studies) appears to her left with a lance and shield. In the background at their feet appears a figure of pestilence defeated. The reverse contains the inscription "Awarded to Walter Reed in Recognition of the High Public Service of Major Walter Reed USA and Associates Who Gave to Man Control of Yellow Fever." Only 24 copies of this medal were minted and awarded.

A "miniature" medal (38 mm) was also authorized. The design of this medal was a duplicate of the larger table medal; except for its reduced size and that it was fitted with a suspension ring and red ribbon, symbolizing sacrifice. It is interesting to note that although the US Army Heraldry Institute describes the miniature medal, they remain unknown to Walter Reed historians and scholars.

The medal shown in Figure 4 is a contemporary copy of the original Congressional Walter Reed medal produced in honor of the US Army Yellow Fever Board (1900-1901) Centennial. The Commander, Walter Reed Army Medical Center, Washington, DC, authorized the production of 300 copies of this medal to be given out during the 2001 centennial celebration of the success of the Yellow Fever Board.

Dr. Walter Reed was further immortalized with this 1963, 45-mm high relief medal (Fig. 5) from the Medallic Art Company "Hall of Fame of Great Americans" at New York University. Both bronze and silver issues of this medal were produced. The silver medal is marked with ".999+ pure" and a serial number on the edge. This medal was also made in bronze. In addition, a larger (77 mm) bronze edition of this medal was also produced. A full size bust of Walter Reed, as pictured on this medal, currently stands in the Hall of Fame of Great Americans at the former Bronx site of New York University, now the City College of the Bronx.

Ernest Schroeder sculptured a medal (Fig. 6) and The Franklin Mint produced it commemorating Walter Reed in 1971 as part of a 12-medal Gallery of Great American series. The obverse has a picture of Walter Reed and the reverse has a picture of an eagle with the inscription "Walter Reed Army Surgeon; Bacteriologist, headed the commission whose research eliminated yellow fever as a major killer." These proof medals were produced in both sterling silver and bronze. The original medals were encased in plastic held in a cardboard frame pictured below (Fig. 7).

Longines-Wittnauer Company, Inc., produced a Walter Reed medal (Fig. 8) as one in the series of 60 "Great American Triumphs" collection produced in the 1970s (around the time of the American Bicentennial) by celebrating great events in American history. The one-ounce Walter Reed medal (40 mm) was produced in 1971 in antiqued sterling silver, bronze, and 24-karat gold on bronze. The medals are inscribed on the edge with the company name and individual serial number. The date "1901" inscribed on the medals signifies the year that Dr. Reed and the Yellow Fever Board made their historic yellow fever discovery.

In 1973, the Franklin Mint, as part of "The Patriots Hall of Fame" Limited Edition Set, Volume 2, minted an interesting proof sterling silver medal (Fig. 9). The obverse of the 39-mm medal features a portrait of Walter Reed and the reverse features a scene of George Washington praying at Valley Forge and reads: "Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge." The medal is mounted in 5" by 7" hardboard creating an impressive frame suitable for exhibition. The printed scene pictured on the front of the frame shows Walter Reed experimentally infecting one of the military volunteers. Dr. Carlos J. Finlay, a Cuban physician, stands in the background. Dr. Finlay had suggested some 20 years earlier that mosquitoes were responsible for transmitting yellow fever, but was unable to prove his theory and had gained little support for his mosquito hypothesis until Walter Reed decided to test his theory. The inscription on the front of the holder reads "Conqueror of yellow fever October 1900". The choice of this date is interesting as during this month no experiments took place. However, Walter Reed did present the preliminary results or their research at the annual meeting of the American Public Health Association in Indianapolis in October 1900.

The Medallic Heritage Society commissioned a silver medal (Fig. 10) that was then struck by the Franklin Mint in 1971 in limited quantities (1,991). The obverse shows Dr. Reed and one of his coworkers and bears the inscription "Conqueror of Yellow Fever." The inscription on the reverse reads "Walter Reed 1851 – 1902, Leader of the courageous scientists whose joint efforts finally vanquished yellow fever." It is interesting that the aesculapius (symbol of the art of healing) appears on the left side of the reverse of the medal. This is the medical symbol used today by the U. S. Air Force and has never been used by the U. S. Army. Although the aesculapius adds to the aesthetics of the medal, it's use is historically incorrect.

The Danbury Mint produced a sterling silver medal in 1971 (Fig. 11) depicting Dr. Reed working with one of his co-workers in his laboratory in Cuba and the yellow fever mosquito on the reverse. This proof 39-mm medal has a reeded edge and contains the inscription "1900 – Dr. Walter Reed combats yellow fever, saving thousands of lives."

Danbury Mint produced another 39-mm medal in sterling silver and 24-karat gold-plate on sterling silver commemorating the conquering of yellow fever by the Yellow Fever Board in 1901 (Fig. 12). The obverse depicts Walter Reed, a nurse (probably Clara Maass) and an unknown volunteer. Miss Maass is remembered as the heroic civilian, contract nurse who volunteered to be bitten by infected mosquitoes and later became ill and died in Cuba. However, she was not part of the experiments conducted by the Yellow Fever Board. She volunteered for an experiment conducted by Major William Gorgas (Chief Sanitary Engineer in Cuba) and Dr. John Guiteras, a Cuban physician. She was later buried in her hometown of East Orange, New Jersey with full military honors. Before her heroic efforts in Cuba she served during the Spanish-American War during the Philippine insurrection in 1898. Her death in 1901 brought a public outcry and ended human experimentation in yellow fever research.

The proof, sterling silver medal produced in 1974 (Fig. 13) is perhaps one of the most detailed and beautifully designed. It has an extremely detailed obverse showing Dr. Reed (standing) holding a tube in which infected mosquitoes are being allowed to feed on the arm of a human volunteer. Dr. Carroll, a member of the Board, and Private William Dean were the first to become ill with yellow fever from the bites of infected mosquitoes, both recovered. However, Dr. Lazaer mysteriously fell ill a few days later and died of yellow fever at Columbia Barracks Hospital, Havana, September 25, 1900, after just seven days of illness. To this day, how he became infected remains a mystery. It is thought that perhaps he was accidentally bitten by an infected mosquito (termed "accidental inoculation") while attending to patients in the hospital yellow fever ward or secretly experimented on himself with infected mosquitoes.

Elizabeth Jones sculptured this beautiful, highly polished proof medal (Fig. 14). In 1973, The National Commemorative Society struck this 110th commemorative sterling silver medal. The obverse shows "Walter Reed, Bacteriologist; 1851", his birth year; and 1902, the year he died. The reverse pictures Aedes aegypti, the yellow fever mosquito, a microscope and the modified cross of St. John (the medical symbol worn by members of the US Army Medical Corps at the time).

The Medallic Arts Company commissioned Abram Belskie in 1973 to execute a large medal (Fig. 15). The medal is part of the Presidential Art Medals series, "Great Men of Medicine" and was produced in silver and bronze. The reverse shows men working in the jungle under the inscription "Panama Canal." Major William C. Gorgas was responsible for controlling yellow fever during the American construction of the Panama Canal. Major Gorgas was in charge of sanitation in Havana during the work of Walter Reed and the Yellow Fever Board. He became friends with Walter Reed and then took the knowledge of how to control mosquitoes to control yellow fever with him to the Panama Canal. However, Walter Reed died before the American construction of the Panama Canal.

The American Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene presents this medal (Fig. 16) every three years to an individual to recognize distinguished accomplishment in the field of tropical medicine. There have been 31 recipients of this medal since it was first awarded to Mrs. Walter Reed in 1936.

September 13, 2001 marked the sesquicential celebration of the birth of Walter Reed on September 13, 1851. To commemorative this event the Commander, Walter Reed Army Medical Center authorized the minting of a bronze medal (Fig. 17). The obverse shows a bust of Walter Reed and the reverse shows the Cross of Saint John in the background and a microscope.

Figure 18, US Army Commander's Coins from a) Walter Reed Army Institute of Research and b) Walter Reed Army Medical Center. Courtesy, LTC Ray Dunton, US Army, who received both these coins in recognition of his heroic acts following the US Embassy bombing in Kenya.

The two "coins" shown in Figure 18 are current official US Army Commander's coins given by the respective commanders of the Walter Reed Army Institute of Research and Walter Reed Army Medical Center to civilian and military personnel for special significant acts. Commanders' "coins" are highly prized by civilians and military working in the Department of Defense and sought after by many collectors.

The Walter Reed Society at Walter Reed Army Medical Center recently honored the memory of Walter Reed by commissioning a Christmas 2001 ornament (Fig. 19). It has a beautiful enameled portrait with a gold-colored outer ring and serves as a fitting tribute to the hospital's namesake, Walter Reed.

Since the discovery of the Yellow Fever Board, Cuba (and the rest of the world) has been set free of the "black vomit", sailors protected from Yellow Jack and the world has had the means to end yellow fever forever. The profound significance of the discovery of Walter Reed and the Yellow Fever Board is perhaps most appropriately summarized by the simple, but elegant words that now appear on Walter Reed's burial monument. At the tribute made by Professor Elliot conferring his honorary Harvard degree on Walter Reed and which has been memorialized and inscribed on a simple shaft in stately Arlington National Cemetery are these words - "He gave to man control over that dreadful scourge yellow fever."

Collecting Walter Reed and yellow fever-related medals is a wonderful way to learn more about this remarkable Army officer and physician, and about this interesting period in American history.

CHICAGO COIN CLUB CELEBRATES 1000TH MEETING

The Chicago Coin Club was scheduled to hold its 1000th meeting on 6 April 2002, in conjunction with the Chicago International Coin Fair (CICF). Steve Album of Santa Rosa, California was to be the featured speaker. His topic was "The Development of Islamic Coinage, 650-1250 AD." In keeping with a fourteen-year tradition, the club has created an educational handout dealing with primitive money. This year the souvenir covers Gold Dust Currency and includes genuine gold!

The activities were to culminate at an evening banquet held in the hotel, with the featured speaker being Dr. Ute Wartenberg, Executive Director of the American Numismatic Society, New York. She will speak on "Owls to Athens – the Dollar of the Ancient World."

Wartenberg's talk complements the club medal struck to mark the milestone. The obverse shows a reproduction of an Athenian tetradracma. Athens was one of the great commercial centers in the ancient world and their "owl" coins circulated throughout the known world for 600 years and imitated as far away as India and South Arabia. The club chose the design to acknowledge the great commercial center of Chicago and to recognize a forerunner, the Chicago Numismatic Society, where the owl to represented the group 100 years ago. The owl also symbolizes the club's dedication to numismatic education. The reverse side shows the appropriate dates and the Club's Latin motto "Docendo Discimus" that translates to "We Learn By Teaching."

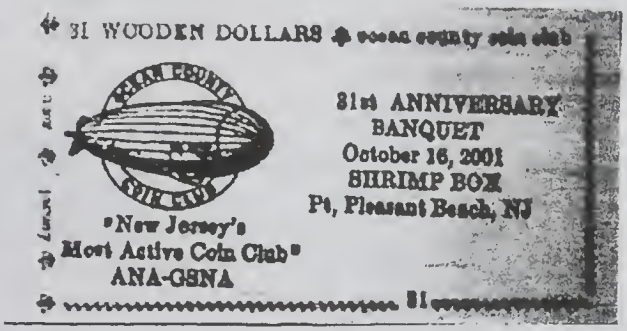
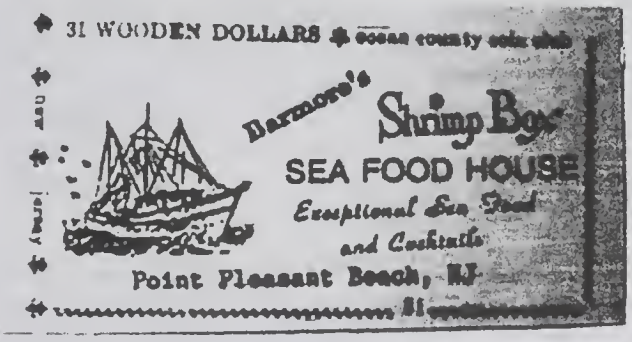
The 2 ½" medals are being struck in .999 fine five-ounce silver and gold. For information on availability of the medals or handout write the Chicago Coin Club at P.O. Box 2301, Chicago, IL 60690.

NEW JERSEY GROUP ISSUES WOODEN TOKEN

The Ocean County Coin Club of New Jersey has issued a "31 WOODEN DOLLARS" flat to commemorate the group's 31st anniversary banquet. The event was held on 16 October 2001 at the Shrimp Box Sea Food House in Point Pleasant Beach, New Jersey.





One side of the wooden flat depicts the club's logo, a Graf Zeppelin. The reverse pictures a shrimp boat.

TAMS members desiring additional information may contact the group at O.C.C.C., 65 – 16th St., Toms River, NJ 08753.

GOLD SCHOOL MEDALS MISSING

The Largo (Florida) High School Band of Gold was the winningest high school band in U.S. history. Formed and directed by Robert R. Cotter from 1968 to 1980, the Band had won the VFW National Championships from 1970 to 1972, and continued to place first in regional contests throughout its history.

In 1974, the Band competed in the World Music Contest in Kerkrade, Holland (considered by many to be the Olympics of music) in the open category and faced several national bands from throughout the world. The Band of Gold won two Gold Medals with Distinction (Marching and Symphonic) and placed second to the National Band of New Zealand. Four years later, the Band of Gold returned to Kerkrade and placed ahead of the National Band of New Zealand, winning three Gold Medals with distinction and the title of World Champion. Mr. Cotter departed from Largo High School in 1980 to pursue other endeavors.

Unfortunately, three of the five Gold Medals won by the Band were stolen from the band room in the early 1980s and were never recovered. We are working hard to find them as they are an important part of the Band of Gold and Robert Cotter legacy.

The Largo High School Band of Gold was a favorite of the Tampa Bay Area during the turbulent 1970s, and represented the best examples of America's youth. Mr. Cotter was not only a teacher of music but also a teacher of life. His goal was not to show youth how to win, but to be the best they could be - winning would almost always come with it. The alumni from the Cotter years have dedicated themselves to furthering his teachings to new generations. In his memory, the Largo Band of Gold Alumni Association has established the Robert R. Cotter Memorial Scholarship Fund. You can read more about the Band and the scholarship fund at .

Anyone having information concerning these medals is urged to contact Evelyn Rose, Chair, Museum Committee, Member, Board of Directors, Largo Band of Gold Alumni Association. Email:

CATALOG OF SPANISH TOKENS PLANNED

A long-delayed numismatic book cataloging project, Tokens of Spain 1800-1979, will be published in 2002 by Numismatics International, a non-profit educational organization based in Texas but with worldwide membership. Russell Rulau completed an outline manuscript for this project in 1995 but was unable to locate a publisher at that time, and the catalog processing was placed in limbo until negotiations between the author and NI officials commenced last summer. According to Gordon Robinson, NI president, a meeting of the author and NI officers took place last year, at which details were finalized under which the illustrated manuscript will be revised, updated and 2002 pricing added by the author

Numismatics International is asking the hobby to assist in this book project by supplying descriptions, background data, photographs or fine drawings of items in collections which fall into any of these categories: tokens for value, store cards, cooperative issues, gaming counters, political or merchant counterstamps, or Proclamation medalets of approximate coin size and weight. Cardboard issues of the emergency change shortages of 1936-39, 1945-46, and 1977-79 will be included (except legal tender Loyalist or Nationalist cardboard pieces of the Spanish Civil War).

Each catalog entry is to be described in full and most will be illustrated, Line listings are to include metallic content, diameter/shape, values in up to four condition degrees, and as much background material as is known. The entries will be cross-referenced to published works, with special attention to the many unpublished pieces of the Spanish Civil War of 1936-39.

The publishers and author have agreed that the revision work will take about six months, so that a completed manuscript can be in the publishers' hands by June 2002. Anyone desiring to assist in this project may contact the author, Russell Rulau, P. 0. Box 153, Iola, Wis. 54945, or publisher, John E. Vandigriff, 190 No. Stemmons Freeway, Suite 200, Lewisville, Texas 75067 (E-mail: john-vand@home.com).

The token issues of homeland Spain, unlike their Spanish-American counterparts, are little known or cataloged either in Europe or the Americas, though they have been avidly collected in Spain itself since word of the original Rulau project spread in the mid 1990s. Prices, which had been dormant until the mid 1980s, continue upward as more collectors and dealers look to this specialty.

Spain had been a battleground between the peasants and workers and the autocratic and militaristic classes for a century before the Spanish Civil War of 1936-1939 tore apart the fabric of life in the country, and this dissension is reflected in the tokens issued by cooperatives, mutual aid societies, municipalities, and church-based charities. The proclamation pieces of Fernando VII, Isabella II, and their successors are not nearly as well known as those issued in Spanish America. They were never legal tender but were usually struck in silver to the coin standard of their day and were accepted in commerce; though not common, most are available to collectors willing to hunt for them in Europe.

Rulau told the NI officers that he had been induced to prepare the manuscript by his work on the two editions of "Latin American Tokens" in 1992 and 2000, since many tokens without place names had to be separated between the homeland and the colonies of the sprawling Spanish empire. Spain issued copper coins in plentiful supply from at least 1600 onward, so that tokens of small denominations had never been necessary for commercial transactions until the unrest of the 20th century.

A spokesman for NI stated that decisions on binding, distribution and retail pricing of the projected catalog cannot be made before mid 2002. He added that all contributors would be acknowledged within the book's introductory text.

A Muling of the E. PERKINS, CONGRESS ST. Token

W. David Perkins, NLG

According to Russell Rulau's Standard Catalog of United States Tokens 1700-1900, 3rd Edition, pages 227-8, the "E. PERKINS" token was issued circa 1845-1860 by Edward Perkins & Co. of Massachusetts. The token as cataloged in Rulau has "E. PERKINS, CONGRESS ST." on one side, and "E. PERKINS & CO. * CONGRESS ST. * on the other. Both sides of this token are illustrated in the Rulau book.

I acquired a specimen of the "E. PERKINS" token in the late 1980s or early 1990s. If I remember correctly, I purchased this token in a mail bid sale. However, I failed to record the source of the purchase. I also failed to study this specimen closely enough.

I was talking with Q. David Bowers at the 1999 ANA Convention and he mentioned to me that he knew of a token by Joseph Merriam with "PERKINS" on it. He said he would send me some information on this token. Bowers' letter read in part:

> ...I am enclosing herewith a copy of a photograph from, I believe, the Standard Catalog of United States Tokens 1700-1900, by Russell Rulau or, alternatively from David Schenkman's article on Merriam in the April, 1980 issue of The Numismatist.
> Merriam, a die sinker located in Boston and particularly active in the 1850s and early 1860s, cut rather simple-appearing dies, such as the E. Perkins die, for various restaurants and other merchants in Boston....

The token referenced by Bowers turned out to be the "E. PERKINS" token. David also sent a photo of one side of the token, the "obverse" with "E. PERKINS, CONGRESS ST." I went to the bank to get my specimen of this token to study. Upon returning home, I checked my specimen of the token against the Bowers' photograph. As the token is rather plain (as Bowers stated), I matched it against the photo and hastily concluded it was the same as the Bowers' photo, as well as the Rulau description. I then wrote a letter to David Bowers thanking him for the information and letting him know I owned a specimen of this token. I also included a scan (photo) of my token.

I kept thinking about Rulau's footnote stating that the token was issued by Edward Perkins & Co. I checked the description for the token in Rulau. In the Rulau plate photo, one side of the token had E. PERKINS & CO. I didn't recall seeing this (the "& CO.") on my specimen. Taking another look at my specimen I realized why - my specimen is a muling of the obverse die, the die with "E. PERKINS, CONGRESS ST." on both the obverse and the reverse.

I reviewed Rulau's introduction to the U.S. Merchant Tokens 1845-1860. Rulau stated:

> "The year 1860 was, in a good many aspects, the best single year token collectors have ever had to look back upon. The multiplicity of beautiful issues – some in proof condition – was due to the best output of a large number of talented diesinkers, - the three Lovett brothers, Key, Horter, Merriam, F.B. Smith, True, H. Miller, Childs and many others.
> That same year also saw numismatic influence of another kind begin: Muling, or the illogical combination of dies to create rare varieties. This catalog has attempted to record the mules, but it claims no completeness in this area."

This muling of the "obverse die" was not listed in Rulau. I wanted to find out if it was a known die variety. The ANA Library provided a copy of A Catalogue of U.S. Store Cards or Merchants Tokens, The Money of the Merchants by Donald M. Miller, 1962. On page 26 of this catalog I found the answer to my question. Although not listed in Rulau, Miller included this muling in his 1962 listing as Miller-82. He cataloged it as "PERKINS, E. Congress Street. Reverse same as obverse. Stamped "30." White metal. 27mm."

I also reviewed a copy (from the ANA Library) of David E. Schenkman's 1980 article in The Numismatist titled "Joseph H. Merriam, Die Sinker." Schenkman listed as his number B46 this muling. Schenkman cataloged it as follows: "B46 Tin. 27mm. Miller Mass. 82. Very rare." He added at the time "I have not seen this variety. Per Miller's description, it has incused number in center. Probably by Merriam." In this article on Merriam, Schenkman states:

"Merriam's dies were muled extensively, creating many rare varieties to frustrate and fascinate the collector."

Thus, after a fair amount of research, I learned that this was a known muling. I am interested in learning if this "E. PERKINS" muling has been reported elsewhere. I would also like to hear from collectors who have specimens of either of these "E PERKINS" tokens in their collections, and which of these two die pairings they have.

Another Blast From The Past! (The Last One!)

This is the last picture in the archives from an early Feisel Token Jamboree. The gent center left has just published some new books. Do you know him?

MAVERICKS

Many readers of this column have asked about the possibility of putting the TAMS maverick database on the Internet where it can be searched by anyone. It would indeed be possible! In fact, there is a prototype of the first hundred mavericks at www.money.org/clubs/TAMS/index.html. If you have not already checked out this page, be sure to visit it. Since TAMS is a member club of the American Numismatic Association, we are taking advantage of their offer to host a club web page. Its intent is to educate the public about our specialties within the field of numismatics, to encourage new members to join us, and to provide services (library catalog, maverick list, etc.) to the TAMS membership.

The database as it currently exists would have to be reformatted to meet our needs, but that is possible, especially with a bit of volunteer help. Searching this database is a bit "clunky" as users have to employ the "Edit-Find" function of their Internet browser. A more suitable method may be found with a little more development.

As with many projects, there are many other considerations beyond the practical aspects. The Token and Medal Society would first have to decide that this is a project worth pursuing. Then, policy decisions must be made regarding what information should be made available. For instance, it would not be desirable to post the names of a maverick's submitter or attributer unless the information was visible to members only. At the moment, such security is not possible on the ANA site.

As with any aspect of an organization such as TAMS, members are encouraged to contact their officers and directors with their opinions. Since the society thrives on volunteer help, consider offering your talents to the betterment of the whole.

On a different subject, April 1, 2002 is the release date for the 1930 Census of the United States. The 72-year waiting period is officially over. Films are available to view at the National Archives branches, but expect a crowd for a while! They are also starting to ship orders to individuals and libraries.

NEW LISTINGS

To have your mavericks listed in this column, mail them (not more than 25 at a time, please) to the Maverick Editor at the address below. Please do not send "initials- or numbers-only" mavericks or other pieces with only a slim chance of being attributed. Since photographs or rubbings do not reproduce adequately, send the actual tokens to photograph. Package them securely, and include stamps or a check made out to me to cover return postage and insurance, indicating desired insurance valuation. As always, if you have mavericks you would like looked up in the TAMS database, e-mail or send me a list and I will be glad to check them.

FEUCHTWANGER TOKENS WANTED

I am collecting and studying Lewis Feuchtwanger one-cent and three cent tokens, circa 1837, classifying them by die varieties and die states. I would be pleased to examine any items sent to me and will make an attractive (in my opinion) cash offer for any that I can use, and in any event will return postpaid any that I cannot use, and pay roundtrip postage.

I seek the familiar one-cent pieces of 1837, the three-cent pieces of that same date, plus store cards or anything else bearing the Feuchtwanger name. All inquiries will be answered personally and promptly. Thank you for your interest!

TAMS Slide Programs

TAMS now has five slide programs for free loan for TAMS members. Each program is shipped in a Kodak "carousel" with the slides in place, along with a typed narrative. Several programs also include a taped (uncued) narrative.

Programs include "The Case of the Misplaced Soda Token," a general token and medal program (heavy in Civil War), Hard Times Tokens, Civil War storecards and Civil War patriotics. It is suggested that the borrower arrange to have a Kodak Carousel projector before requesting any of these programs.

TAMS also has a repeating program and self-contained Caramate projector especially designed for use at coin or collectible shows.

When returning any program, at borrower's expense, the member is requested to enclose a check for the original shipping charge. Inquiries and requests (please write at least three weeks prior to scheduled showing including your street address) may be sent to:

INFORMATION FOR ADVERTISERS

Advertising Restrictions

All advertisers must subscribe to the TAMS code of ethical standards. The editor is vested with the right to reject any offered advertising which he feels is not in keeping with the best objectives of TAMS. All advertisers must supply their own cuts or art work, unless other arrangements are made. All ads are priced on a CASH IN ADVANCE basis. Further information regarding advertising is available by writing to the editor.

Classified Advertising

Each member may submit one free classified ad, up to a maximum of 25 words, per issue. Each word or group of numbers counts as one word, as does the zip code. Ads larger than 25 words are accepted but payment for the extra words, at the rate of 10¢ per word, must accompany the ad. Ads over 25 words which are not accompanied by payment will be edited to the 25 word limit, without exception.

Mail Bid Ads

It is recommended that closing dates in mail bid ads be set six weeks following the listed issue date in which it is to be inserted. While the Token and Medal Society endeavors to place issues in the hands of its members no later than three weeks following the issue date, it assumes no responsibility for doing so. All mail bids must include any rules that apply to that sale. The term "usual rules" is not acceptable.
